First Metro Consumer Fund on MSCI Philippines IMI Inc.
18th Floor, PS Bank Center,
777 Paseo de Roxas Ave. corner Sedeño St.,
Makati City, Philippines
Tel. No. +(63 2) [891-2860]

This Prospectus relates to the registration and offer of up to 200,000,000 common shares (the “Offer”), inclusive of what has been subscribed upon incorporation. Out of the authorized capital stock of Two Hundred Million (200,000,000) shares at a par value of One Centavo (₱ 0.01) per share, the number of shares to be offered by First Metro Consumer Fund on MSCI Philippines IMI, Inc. (“FMCFM”, the “Issuer” or the “Fund”) is Two Hundred Million (200,000,000) shares (the “Offer”).

The Issuer is a domestic corporation, incorporated on the 28th of April 2010 as Paradigm Global Growth Fund, Inc. (“PGGFI”). The principal business address of the Fund is at the 18th Floor, PS Bank Center, 777 Paseo de Roxas Ave. corner Sedeño St., Makati City, with contact numbers (63-2) [891-2860].

Following the purchase by First Metro Asset Management (“FAMI”) of PGGFI, the Fund has been renamed First Metro Consumer Fund on MSCI Philippines IMI, Inc. (“FMCFM”). The new board and the stockholders approved the amendments to its Articles of Incorporation, in separate meetings held on 9 June 2017, and 30 June 2017, respectively. The Application for Amendment of Articles of Incorporation is currently under process by the Corporate and Registration Monitoring Department of the SEC.

The Issuer is engaged primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting, and trading in securities and the sale of its shares of stock. As a licensed mutual fund, it offers to the public, on a continuous basis, redeemable shares of stock, at a price computed on a daily basis plus a front end sales load.

The Fund seeks long-term return from the historical outperformance of listed Philippine consumer equities versus several economic benchmarks which may include the main market index of the Philippine equities market, PSEi.

The Fund is an open-ended mutual fund designed to provide total returns consisting of dividend income and long-term capital appreciation through investment in equity securities of a consumer index, specifically the First Metro Index on MSCI¹ Philippines, IMI². The Fund will invest almost 100% of its assets in equities. Its investment objective is classified as a pure equity risk. It shall employ a “passive” or indexing approach to try to achieve the Fund’s investment objective (see page 9).

The gross proceeds from the sale of the shares of stock of the fund using the absolute value of the Net Asset Value per share of P1.2435 as of December 31, 2016, estimated at Two Hundred Forty Eight Million, Seven Hundred Thousand Pesos (Php248,700,000.00), shall be held by the Issuer’s custodian bank, The Hong Kong Shanghai Banking Corporation (“HSBC”). The proceeds from the Offer will be invested in equities included in the constructed consumer index, and, all of these are valued on a marked-to-market valuation basis. The investment objective of the Fund is classified as moderate, pure equity risk. The assets of the Fund shall be structured based on the weights of such constructed consumer index

The Fund’s investment objective is classified as moderate pure equity risk. While the Fund aims to provide total returns consisting of current income and capital appreciation, various risk factors can affect the market value of the assets of the Fund and cause the Fund's net asset value to vary. Consequently, there can be instances where the redemption prices of redeemed shares will be less than the prices at which the shares were originally purchased. Investors who redeem their shares during this time may not recover the full cost of their investment.

Risks of Investing

An investment in the Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Philippine Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of its investments, it is possible to lose money by investing in the Fund. The Fund's return will change as a result of movements in the market and other macroeconomic factors. No single fund is intended to be a complete investment program, but individual funds, such as this Fund, can be an important part of a balanced and diversified investment program. Mutual funds have the following general risks: returns may vary, the investor may lose money, and the investor cannot be certain that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. The Company has enumerated the general risks under "Risk Factors" on page 12.

Risk Factors

Various risk factors can affect the market value of the assets of the Fund and cause the Fund's net asset value to vary. Consequently, there are instances where redemption prices of redeemed shares may be less than the prices at which the shares were originally purchased. Investors who redeem their shares during this time may not recover the full cost of their investment.

The following are the risks factors in the order of importance:

General Risk Warning

- The price of securities can and does fluctuate,
- Any individual security may experience upward or downward movements, and may approach valueless levels. There is an inherent risk that losses may be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities.
- Past performance does not guarantee to future returns.
- There is an extra risk of losing money when securities are bought from smaller companies. There may be a big difference between the buying and selling price of these securities.
- An investor deals in a range of investments of each of which may carry a different level of risk.

Prudence Required

The risk disclosure does not purport to disclose all the risks and other significant aspects investing in these securities. An investor should undertake his or her own research and study on the trading of securities before commencing any trading activity. He/she may request information on the securities and the issuer thereof from the Commission which are available to the public.

Professional Advice

An investor should seek professional advice if he or she is uncertain of, or has not understood any aspect of the securities to invest in or the nature of risks involved in trading of securities specially those high risk securities.

Market Risk

The Fund's investments in equity securities may decline in value due to factors affecting securities markets generally, or particular countries, segments, economic sectors, industries, or companies within those markets.

The value of a security may decline due to general economic and market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular issuer, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions or changes in interest or currency rates or political or peace and order situations. Downward fluctuations in the value of securities in which the Fund invests will cause the NAV of the Fund to decline. Historically, the markets have moved in cycles and the value of the Fund's securities and other financial instruments may move drastically up or down from day to day.

To mitigate this risk, the fund manager will endeavor to maintain a high Sharpe ratio which will be in keeping with the objective of being faithful to the tracked index. The Sharpe ratio is calculated as follows:

$$\text{Sharpe ratio} = (\text{Mean portfolio return} - \text{Risk-free rate}) / \text{Standard deviation of portfolio return}$$

The Sharpe ratio guides the portfolio manager from taking more risk. A low ratio indicates that the portfolio is exposed to higher risk.

The fund manager shall periodically simulate an ex-ante Sharpe ratio using expected returns to give guidance on future portfolio movements. The fund manager shall also routinely calculate the historical Sharpe ratio using realized returns.

Index Risk

The Fund is subject to the risk that the Underlying Index may underperform vis-à-vis the other segments of the equity market or the equity market as a whole.

The Index shall be evaluated for rebalancing every three (3) months. The returns of the Fund may be affected by such rebalancing. Investors must be aware that the index we are following is different from the PSEi and performance may not be the same. This is a risk that the investor must take since it is the choice of the investor to participate in tracking this index.

Liquidity Risk

Although the Index shall be comprised of securities included in the main board of the PSE, and has been screened based on market capitalization and liquidity criteria, in certain circumstances, it may be difficult for the Fund to purchase and sell particular investments within a reasonable time at a fair price. In addition, the ability to assign an accurate daily value to certain investments may sometimes be difficult, and the Fund Manager may be required to fair value the investments.

However, since one of the criteria for selection is that a constituent stock must have a history of above average trading volume over the prior three months, any liquidity risk will be mitigated in every three month period.

Tracking Error Risk

Tracking error is the divergence of the Fund's performance from that of the index it tracks. Tracking error may occur due to the differences between the securities held in the Fund's portfolio and those included in the index, pricing differences, transaction costs, the Fund's holding of cash, differences in timing of the accrual of dividends, changes to the Underlying Index or the need to meet various new or existing regulatory requirements. This risk may be heightened during times of increases market volatility or other unusual market conditions. Tracking error may also result due to the fees and expenses which are incurred by the Fund.

FAMI has had a strong track record of securing a very low tracking error through the FMETF which enjoyed a tracking error of 0.15% to 0.04% since inception in December 2013. Tracking error risk is fully mitigated by daily calculations and daily potential adjustments. However, in order not to increase expense ratios, portfolio movements will be executed only when tracking error threatens to widen significantly.

Trading Halt Risk

Trading of the shares included in the Underlying Index may be halted or suspended by the PSE because of market conditions or other reasons. If a trading halt or suspension occurs, a shareholder may still redeem shares of the fund on the same day based on latest valuation. Essentially, there is no risk to the investor in this case since investors will be able to redeem shares at NAVPS.

Manager risk

Being an index fund, the performance indicator of the Fund Manager is the ability to track the particular index with as little tracking error as possible. The board of directors of the issuer will see to it that the all investment policies and restrictions enumerated in this prospectus are strictly followed. The board will meet more often to continually monitor the investment manager's performance in this area.

No single fund is intended to be a complete investment program, but individual funds, such as this Fund, can be an important part of a diversified investment program. Mutual funds have the following general risks: returns may vary, the investor may lose money, and the investor cannot be certain that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. However, daily monitoring of the portfolio's tracking error can mitigate manager risk since any divergence from the tracked index can be responded to very quickly.

Interest rate risk

The fund is indirectly exposed to interest rate risk only to the extent that the interest rate outlook affects the forward valuation of the stocks in the portfolio. The fund does not at all invest in long-term bonds or long-term fixed income instruments, and any interest rate risk is merely coincidental and have no direct correlation with the behavior of the portfolio.

Credit risk

Credit risk (also called default risk) is the risk that the issuer of the security will not be able to make principal and interest payment on a debt issue. Given that this is an index fund, it will only invest in the constituent stocks of the index. It will not invest in debt instruments, and therefore, has no direct credit risk.

Non-Diversification Risk

Being an index fund which is required to invest in a minimum variety of stocks numbering at least eighteen (18) issues as seen in the description of the consumer index, the fund is automatically diversified into the required number of issues.

Passive Investment Risk

The Fund is not actively managed and the Fund Manager may not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets. Therefore, the Fund may be subject to greater losses in a declining market compared to a fund that is actively managed. This, however, is the nature of a tracker fund. Investors need to understand that the fund manager will do as best as he can to track the behavior of the index.

Absence of Operating History

The Fund is a start-up company and may also be affected by risks associated with companies that do not have operating histories. However, people and companies behind the Fund have actual experience and track record in mutual funds and other financial institutions. The fund managers were awarded the best performing equity fund for the ten-year period ending 2015.

The investors should be aware that their investment in mutual funds is not guaranteed by the Philippine Deposit Insurance Corporation. The Fund Manager is also not permitted by law to guarantee any yield to the investors of the Fund.

Risks Relating to the Philippines

Substantially all of the Fund's component securities are shares of companies based in the Philippines, which exposes the Fund to risks associated with the country, including the performance of the Philippine economy. Factors that may adversely affect the Philippine economy include: 1) decreases in business, industrial, manufacturing or financial activities in the Philippines, the Southeast Asian region or globally; 2) scarcity of credit or other financing, resulting in lower demand for products and services provided by companies in the Philippines, the Southeast Asian region or globally; 3) exchange rate fluctuations; 4) inflation or increases in interest rates; 5) levels of employment, consumer confidence and income; 6) changes in the Philippine government's fiscal and regulatory policies; 7) re-emergence of Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) or avian influenza (bird flu), Middle East respiratory syndrome coronavirus (commonly known as MERS-CoV) or the emergence of another similar disease in the Philippines or in other countries in Southeast Asia such as the Zika virus; 8) natural disasters, including but not limited to, tsunamis, typhoons, earthquakes, floods, fires, and similar events; 9) political instability, terrorism, or military conflict in the Philippines, other countries in the region or globally; 10) other regulatory, political, or economic developments in or affecting the Philippines. There can be no assurance that the Philippines will achieve strong economic fundamentals in the future. Changes in the conditions of the Philippine economy could materially and adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

Adoption of PAS 39

Mark-to-market method in the valuation of marketable securities requires that the market price for all issues in the portfolio booked in the net assets of the Fund so that any profit or loss is reflected in the value of the Fund; hence the net asset value per share is always affected.

An index fund has the luxury of being automatically diversified across different issuers that are constituents of the index.

Prospective investors should carefully evaluate these risks as well as and in connection with the other information contained in this prospectus.

The Fund

Background and Purpose

The Issuer is a domestic corporation, incorporated on the 28th of April 2010 as Paradigm Global Growth Fund, Inc. The principal business address of the Fund is at the 18th Floor, PS Bank Center, 777 Paseo de Roxas Ave. corner Sedeño St., Makati City, with contact numbers (63-2) [891-2860].

Following the purchase by FAMI of PGGFI, the Fund has been renamed First Metro Consumer Fund on MSCI Philippines IMI, Inc. The new board and the stockholders approved the amendments to its Articles of Incorporation, in separate meetings held on 9 June 2017, and 30 June 2017, respectively. The Application for Amendment of Articles of Incorporation is currently under process by the Corporate and Registration Monitoring Department of the SEC.

The Fund seeks long-term return from the historical outperformance of listed Philippine consumer equities versus several economic benchmarks including the main market index of the Philippine equities market, PSEi. The Fund uses a “passive” or indexing approach to try to achieve the Fund’s investment objective.

Investment Motivation and Philosophy

The Fund is both a sector and a thematic fund. It is a sector fund because it allows investors exposure to the benefits of the biggest pillar and a key engine of Philippine economic growth: the Philippines’ personal consumption expenditures (“PCE”). Contributing to three-quarters of the Gross Domestic Product (“GDP”) and growing by more than 5% annually in the last decade, the vastness of PCE has created a so-called Philippine consumer sector where leading industries and the country’s most profitable listed companies are found. The Fund is also a theme play as it takes advantage of the wealth effect filtering into consumption spending of the country’s Philippines’ new economic plan: President Duterte’s Ten-Point Socio-economic Program.

Investment Strategy

To maximize returns and achieve a well-focused consumer sector exposure, the Fund’s investment allocation will track an Underlying Index to be known as the “MSCI-FMIC Consumer Stock Index” that was especially constructed to filter the most fundamentally-sound and liquid consumer equities in the local bourse in partnership with MSCI, a globally-renowned index provider. Because the index is market capitalization weighted and free-float adjusted, it represents a measure of the performance of Philippine-traded stocks of consumer-related companies in the Philippines. The components of the Underlying Index, and the degree to which these components represent certain industries, are likely to change over time. Weights of individual stocks in the Underlying Index will reflect market conditions as they are driven primarily by free-float adjusted market capitalization and other factors embodied by the MSCI index calculation methodology. The Fund will have flexibility in determining individual stock weightings as it deems fit but will maintain a tracking error to ensure it closely follows the index performance.

Indexing Strategy

The Fund’s indexing strategy would be that of representative sampling which involves investing in a representative sample of securities that mirror the Philippine industries driven by the consumer sector which shall be termed as the Philippine Consumer Sector. The portfolio will have an investment profile that aims to reflect the performance of the Underlying Index. The securities selected are expected to have, in the aggregate, investment characteristics (based on factors such as market capitalization and industry weightings), fundamental characteristics (such as percentages of consumer revenue exposure for non-banks and consumer loan exposure for banks) and liquidity measures (free-float, average daily value traded and annual traded value ratio) that comply to the requirements of the Underlying Index.

Advantages of the Indexing Approach

The advantage of indexing is that it reduces some of the risks of active management of a fund, such as poor security selection and investing only in index constituents with proven historical performance based on long-term back tested results. Indexing is also seen to achieve lower costs and better after-tax performance by keeping portfolio turnover low in comparison to actively-managed investment companies.

Index Composition

The Underlying Index comprise eighteen (18) stocks which include listed Philippine equity securities that have revenue exposure to key Philippine industry sectors, benefitting from the structure of Philippine family consumption expenditures. It may include large-, mid-, or small-capitalization companies that are members or non-members of the PSEi. As such, the index comprises companies in the following industry categories: banking, food and beverage, utilities such as electricity and water distribution, property development, retail leasing, and food service. Some of these companies are conglomerates that have business across several industries, operating subsidiaries of diversified conglomerates and utilities that have linkages to power generation subsidiaries. The same constituent stocks have a total market cap weight equal to one half of the PSEi, which makes it highly differentiated from the PSEi and as such has potential for outperformance vs the PSEi.

Index Construction

In creating the Underlying Index, First Metro partnered with globally-renowned index provider, MSCI, whose universe of forty-four (44) stocks comprising the MSCI Philippine Investable Market Index (MSCI IMI) was the starting point of the consumer stock selection (see Table 1). The broadest stock classifications are consumer discretionary and consumer staple stocks. Consumer discretionary companies are those whose products are bought by consumers outside of their basic needs and whose demand are driven by wealth effects or that part of disposable income that is over and above expenses allocated for basic necessities. On the other hand, consumer staples are those companies whose products and services form part of the basic necessities and thus, their consumption are immediate and not postponable. From the 44 IMI stocks of the MSCI, stock exclusions were made based on a set of criteria that includes percentage of revenues driven by the basic family consumption expenditure structure which is at least 30% of total revenues for non-banks and at least a 20% share for the banks' consumer loan portfolio to their total loan portfolio.

The stock screening yielded two sets of consumer-oriented company types: the pure consumer companies and the hybrid consumer companies. Pure consumer companies have revenue streams that come purely 100% from consumption, i.e., total revenue = consumer revenue. On the other hand, hybrid companies have consumer revenues making up only the abovementioned minimum revenue exposure. They may thus have a more diluted mix of revenues from various industry exposures that are not necessarily consumer-driven.

The index carries the free-float adjusted market cap weighting of the constituent stocks.

Index Weighting

For the index weighting, pure stocks' fund weight is according to its free-float adjusted market cap

On the other hand, weight of hybrid stocks is market cap adjusted according to: 1) Consumer portion of entire revenue, and; 2) Free-float %. (see table below for final weighting).

Index Back-testing and Rebalancing

For performance analysis, stock performances of PSE-listed stocks over a 5-yr and a 10-yr period were examined. The portfolio was back-tested from 2012 and 2007, respectively, to November 11, 2016, and rebalanced annually starting end-2006 and end-2011.

The Underlying Index will then be rebalanced quarterly for stock exclusions and inclusions. These will only involve names confined to the 44 MSCI IMI members, which by virtue of its being an index owned and maintained by MSCI, in itself, is subject to a quarterly review. Thus the 44 stock universe could change over time as well. Events materially affecting constituent stocks and companies in terms of their liquidity, market cap weighting, foreign ownership --in general their global investibility -- will be factored in the screening during each rebalancing. The Index Provider determines the composition and relative weightings of the securities in the Underlying Index and publishes information regarding the market value of the Underlying Index.

Shown below is the fund's total returns compared to the Philippine Stock Exchange index (PSEi), the Philippine's GDP growth, inflation, peso-dollar exchange, and OFW remittances growth for the 5-yr period starting 2012.

Note that the Consumer Index's total returns for the five (5) year period significantly (2012 – 2016) outpaced the PSEi's total returns at 160% to 83%, respectively. In the sample period of ten (10) years (2007-2016), the index outperformed the PSEi, at 342% to 217%

Dividend Policy

The Corporation Code generally requires a Philippine corporation with surplus profits in excess of 100% of its paid-up capital to declare and distribute such surplus to its shareholders in the form of dividends. Notwithstanding this general requirement, a Philippine corporation may retain all or any portion of such surplus when (i) justified by definite corporate expansion projects or programs approved by the Board of Directors; or (ii) when the corporation is prohibited under any loan agreement with any financial institution or creditor, whether local or foreign, from declaring dividends without its/his consent, and such consent has not yet been secured; or (iii) when it can clearly be shown that such retention is necessary under special circumstances obtaining in the corporation, such as when there is need for special reserve for probably contingencies.

The Board of Directors of the Fund has adopted a policy, consistent with the Fund's objective of capital appreciation, to retain the surplus profits of the Fund in the retained earnings account. Such accumulation is reflected in the computation of the net asset value per share. Shareholders realize their gains when shares are redeemed. To date, there have been no distributions of dividends to shareholders. The Board of Directors of the Fund may amend the dividend policy as conditions warrant. In said event, the declaration of cash dividends is subject to the restriction that no dividends will be declared that will impair the capital stock of the company.

The Board of Directors of the Fund may decide to declare dividends from the unrestricted retained earnings of the Fund at a time and percentage as the same Board may deem proper and in accordance with law. If dividends are to be declared, the computation and distribution shall be proportionate to the holdings or ownership of each of the stockholders.

Compliance with the Anti-Money Laundering Law and the proposed ICA Rule.

Mutual funds are now covered under the Anti-Money Laundering Law, hence the placements of investors that fall under covered transactions would need to be reported to the Anti-Money Laundering Council (AMLC). The proposed revisions to the Investment Company Act (ICA) would also impose stricter reportorial requirements and additional qualifications to solicitors should these be passed into law. The other provisions proposed under the new rules would align the ICA with global standards and practices, and will enable Philippine incorporated mutual funds to qualify and compete in international cross-border transactions.

Plan of Distribution

The Fund has First Metro Asset Management, Inc. (FAMI) as principal distributor of its shares of stock and will not sell or agree to sell any shares of its capital stock except through FAMI. FAMI may set up a marketing network and accredit sub-distributors or agents to sell the shares. Accredited sub-distributors or agents are directly liable to FAMI. Heavy use of print advertisements will be part of the sales and marketing strategy.

The product being sold by the registrant, through FAMI, is its shares of stock, being a mutual fund company. The product will be sold to the public under the new owner once this Prospectus is approved. The registrant is a stock corporation which was incorporated on 28 April 2010.

FAMI'S marketing strategy will be based on the strategic partnership of CEAP, Marist and First Metro Investment Corp. FAMI will capitalize on the endorsement of the CEAP in order to educate the teachers on the concept of savings and mutual fund investing. The CEAP membership composed of over 20,000 teachers will be a primary source of retail investors. This competitive advantage will be further strengthened by FMIC's good track record, market experience and credibility, and position as the largest investment bank and backed-up by the largest universal bank in the country.

FAMI will likewise capitalize on its relationships with the companies under the Metrobank Group. The group, with its total employee force of over 14,000 will be an excellent source of retail investors and referrals to high net-worth individuals. The corporations under the group are potential sources of institutional funds that will enable the FAMI mutual funds to attain critical mass at a faster pace.

FAMI's license as Fund Distributor was renewed last November 28, 2016, and will be due for renewal this November, 2017.

Competition

The competitive environment for the company's products includes not only the products and services offered by the other Mutual Fund players, but all other investment instruments that the target market has access to. The Philippine mutual fund industry is still a relative young industry compared to those of other countries, however, it is growing at a fast rate.

The Fund believes that the competition is in the area of investment performance and client services. Although there are no other consumer mutual funds yet in the Philippine market, the natural competitors will be in the index mutual funds. Currently, the big players in this category are BPI, Philam and Sunlife; they capture around 77% of the funds in the balanced fund category of the mutual fund industry. FAMI has approximately P12 billion in assets under management (AUM). Philam and Sunlife have big sales force and they have life insurance companies as affiliates which they also tap to market their mutual funds. They have big multinational financial institutions as their parent companies. They have longer track record and experience not only in the mutual fund industry but also in other financial products and services. The top three competitors substantially capture the local industry's market share.

The Fund will target potential clients all over the country with concentration in the major cities. The Fund will adopt a passive or indexing approach. It will fully utilize its present network, database, and available technology to its advantage.

The institutional funds of the target market (especially the bigger ones) evidently have access to almost all types of instruments locally available such as common trust funds (now unit investment trusts), pre-need plans, universal life products and other bank products. The retail funds and smaller institutional funds, however, are limited to simple bank products. Appropriately formulated marketing strategies, sales tactics and promotional activities will be employed to present the Fund ultimately close the sale and maintain the account.

Effect of existing governmental regulation

On PAS 39. Mark-to-market method of valuation, assesses both equity and debt instruments based on the current market price of those instruments. Therefore, the interplay of demand and supply of those instruments and other macroeconomic factors, i.e. level of prevailing interest rates, affect their prices. The changes in the prices will be reflected in the valuation of these instruments, hence reflected in the value of the net assets of Fund. The Fund's net asset value per share (NAVPS) is thus affected.

On Labor Concerns. The Registrant has no employees because all aspects of its operations and administration are subcontracted with FAMI, hence it has no risks as far as labor problems are concerned.

The marking-to-market method of valuation assesses both equity and debt instruments based on the current market price of those investment instruments. Therefore, the interplay of demand and supply of those instruments and other macroeconomic factors affect their prices. The changes in the prices of equities will be reflected in the value of the net assets of the Fund. The Fund's net asset value per share (NAVPS) is thus affected by this marking-to-market valuation.

The Fund believes that government regulations are intended to grow the mutual fund industry while protecting the interests of the investing public, thus, it will comply with the regulations imposed or to be imposed by government regulators. Also, the passage of the Personal Equity Retirement Account (PERA) bill into law will benefit the mutual fund industry.

Applicable Philippine Laws

Investment Company Act of 1960

The business of investment companies is primarily regulated by the Investment Company Act of 1960 and the SEC rules and regulations governing investment companies. Subject to the exceptions under the law, an investment company is any issuer which is or holds itself out as being engaged primarily, or proposes to engage primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting, or trading in securities. An investment company is either, an open-end company or a closed-end company.

On one hand, an open-end company is an investment company that offers for sale or has outstanding redeemable security, of which it is the issuer. On the other hand, a closed-end company is any investment company other than an open-end company.

To be incorporated as an investment company, the following requirements should be complied with:

1. Minimum subscribed and paid-in capital of Php50,000,000.00;
2. All shares of stock should be common and voting shares. In the case of open-end companies, the articles of incorporation thereof should expressly deny the pre-emptive rights of stockholders;
3. All the members of the board directors must be Filipino citizens.

The Investment Company Act, likewise, requires the registration of the investment company and of the shares of the investment company itself. Likewise, the Investment Company Act requires an investment company to place and maintain its securities and similar investments in the custody of: a duly organized local commercial bank of good repute; or a company that is a member of a securities exchange as defined in the Securities Regulation Code subject to such rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission; or such registered company, but only in accordance with such rules and regulations or order as the Commission may from time to time prescribe for the protection of investors.

The Investment Company Act also provides that the pertinent provisions of section seventeen of the Corporation Law (now Section 38 of the Philippine Corporation Code) or any other provision of the said law in conflict with Section 22 of the Act (on distribution, redemption, and repurchase of securities), shall not apply to a registered open-end company.

No registered investment company shall (1) employ as regular broker any director, officer, or employee of such registered company, or any person of which any such director, officer, or employee is an affiliated person; (2) use a principal underwriter of securities issued by it any director, officer, or employee of such registered company or may person of which any such director, officer, employee is an affiliated person; or (3) have as director, officer, or employee any investment banker, or any affiliated person of an investment banker. For the purposes of the foregoing, a person shall not be deemed an affiliated person of an investment banker solely by reason of the fact that he is an affiliated person of a company (A) all the outstanding securities of which (other than short-term paper, securities representing bank loans and directors' qualifying shares) are, or after such acquisition will be, owned by one or more registered investment companies; and (B) which is primarily engaged in the business of underwriting and distributing securities issued by other persons, selling securities to customers, or any one or more of such or related activities, and the gross income of such person normally is derived principally from such business or related activities. No registered investment company shall have a majority of its board of directors consisting of persons who are officers or directors of any one bank. If by reason of the death, disqualification, or bona fide resignation of any director or directors, the requirements of the foregoing in respect of directors shall not be met by a registered investment company, the operation of such requirements shall be suspended as to such registered company for a period of thirty (30) days if the vacancy or vacancies may be filled by action of the board of directors, and for a period of sixty (60) days if a vote of stockholders is required to fill the vacancy or vacancies, or for such longer period as the SEC may prescribe, by rules and regulations upon its own motion or by order upon application, as not inconsistent with the protection of investors.

No registered investment company shall knowingly purchase or otherwise acquire, during the existence of any underwriting or selling syndicate, any security (except a security of which such company is the issuer) a principal underwriter of which is an officer, director, member of an advisory board, investment adviser, or employee of such registered company, or is a person (other than a company of the character described in paragraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (b) (3) of which any such officer, director, member of an advisory board, investment adviser, or employee is an affiliated person, unless in acquiring such security such registered company is itself acting as a principal underwriter for the issuer. The SEC, by rules and regulations upon its own motion or by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any transaction or classes of transactions from any of the provisions of this subsection, if and to the extent that such exemption is consistent with the protection of investors.

Dividends

The corporation may pay dividends only out of its unrestricted retained earnings, the unrestricted retained earnings of the corporation that have not been allocated for any managerial, contractual, or legal purposes and that are free for distribution to shareholders. The corporation may satisfy dividends in cash, by the distribution of property, or by the issuance of shares of stock. Dividends satisfied by the issuance of shares may only be paid with the approval of shareholders representing at least two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding capital stock at a shareholders' meeting specially called for that purpose.

Declaration of dividends is generally discretionary with the board of directors. However, corporations with surplus profits in excess of 100% of their paid-in capital are required to declare and distribute the amount of such excess profits as dividends, except when the retention is justified by: Definite corporate expansion projects, programs approved by the board of directors, or when consent of creditors is required under any loan agreement, or when it can be clearly shown that such retention is necessary under special circumstances.

Rights of Minority Shareholders

The right of a shareholder to institute proceedings on behalf of the corporation in a derivative suit is recognized by Philippine law. Derivative suits may be filed where the corporation itself is unable or unwilling to institute the necessary proceedings to redress wrong committed against the corporation or to vindicate corporate rights. Derivative suits involving intra-corporate disputes are filed before the Courts of general jurisdiction of the appropriate Regional Trial Court per Sec 5.2 of the Securities Regulation Code. Shareholders have the right to inspect the records of the corporation at reasonable hours on business days. These records include minutes of all meetings of the board of directors and of the shareholders, and records of all business transactions of the corporation. However, the right of inspection may be denied if the shareholder seeking to examine the corporate records has improperly used any information secured through any prior examination of corporate records, or was not acting in good faith or with a legitimate purpose in making his demand for inspection.

Management

Corporate powers are exercised, all business conducted, and all properties of a corporation are controlled and held by the board of directors. The nature of an investment company's business, however, makes it imperative for the corporation to enter into a management contract with an investment manager/adviser. The Investment Company Act lays down the requirements for such kind of contracts as follows:

1. The contract has been approved by the vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of the investment company;
2. The contract precisely described all compensation to be paid thereunder;
3. The contract shall continue in effect for a period of more than two years from the date of its execution, provided that such continuance is specifically approved at least annually by the board of directors or by vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of such company;

4. The contract provides in substance that it may be terminated at any time without the payment of any penalty by the board of directors of the company or by vote of two-thirds of the outstanding voting securities of such company or not more than sixty days written notice to the investment adviser; and,
5. The contract provides in substance for the automatic termination in the event of assignment thereof by the investment adviser/manager.
6. Each member of the board of directors, who Unless otherwise provided by the Corporation Code, the articles of incorporation or By-laws of the corporation, an act of the majority of the directors present in a meeting with a quorum shall be valid as a corporate act. Certain corporate acts, however, may only be effected with the approval of shareholders representing at least two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding capital stock at a shareholders' meeting convened for the purpose.

Matters requiring such shareholders' approval include, but are not limited to: the amendment of the articles of incorporation; the removal of directors; the sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition of all or a substantial part of the assets of the corporation; and investment of corporate funds in any other corporation, or business, or for any purpose other than primary purpose for which the corporation was organized must hold at least one (1) share of the corporation, is elected for a one (1) year term during the annual meeting of stockholders of the corporation.

7. Each share of stock is entitled to one vote during shareholders' meeting. However, in the election of directors, each shareholder is entitled to such number of votes as is equal to the product of the number of shares owned by him and the number of directors to be elected. The shareholder may cumulate his votes in favor of one candidate or distribute these votes in such proportion and amount between or among as many of the candidates as he may think fit. The election of directors may only be held at a meeting convened for that purpose at which shareholders representing a majority of outstanding capital stock are present in person or by proxy. However, any vacancy in the board, other than by removal or expiration of term, may be filled by the majority of the remaining directors if still constituting a quorum.

Accounting and Auditing

Corporations are required to file copies of their annual financial statements with the SEC. Shareholders are entitled to request copies of the most recent financial statements of the corporation which shall include a balance sheet as of the end of the last tax year and profit and loss statement approved at least annually by the board of directors or by vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of such company for that year. The board of directors is required to present to shareholders at every annual meeting a financial report of the operations of the corporation for the preceding year. This report is required to include audited financial statements.

Tax Considerations

The following is a general description of certain Philippine tax aspects of the investment in the Fund. This discussion is based on laws, regulations, rulings, income tax conventions (tax treaties), administrative practices and judicial decisions in effect at the date of this Prospectus. Subsequent legislative, judicial or administrative changes or interpretations may be retroactive and could affect the tax consequences to the Issuer or a prospective investor.

Corporate Income Tax

As a general rule, a domestic corporation is subject to corporate income tax of 30% on its taxable income¹ from all sources within or without the Philippines. The exception, among others, would be (i) gross interest income from Philippine currency bank deposits and yields from deposit substitutes, trust funds and similar arrangements, and royalties, which are subject to a final withholding tax rate of 20% of the gross amount of such income; (ii) interest income from a depository bank under the expanded foreign currency deposit system which is subject to a final 7.5% tax on the gross amount of such income. Further, in computing the corporate income tax, effective July 6, 2008, companies are given a choice to claim itemized deductions or the optional standard deduction (“OSD”), with the former being presumed unless specific election of OSD is signified in the tax return. The OSD election is irrevocable for the taxable year for which the tax return is made. The OSD is equivalent to an amount not exceeding 40% of the company's gross income. For this purpose, "Gross Income" means all income derived from whatever source, including, but not limited to, compensation for service, gross income derived from the conduct of trade or business or exercise of profession, gains derived from dealings in property, interests, rent, royalties, dividends, annuities, prizes and winnings.

A minimum corporate income tax (“MCIT”) of 2% of gross income would likewise be applicable to the Issuer, beginning on the fourth taxable year from commencement of business operations, whenever the MCIT is greater than the ordinary corporate income tax. For this purpose, "Gross Income" means gross sales less sales returns, discounts and allowances and cost of goods sold. Passive income, such as interest on bank deposits and royalties subject to final withholding tax, shall not form part of gross income for purposes of MCIT.

Nevertheless, any excess of the MCIT over the ordinary corporate income tax may be carried forward and credited against the latter for the three (3) immediately succeeding taxable years. Further, subject to certain conditions, the MCIT may be suspended with respect to a corporation which suffers losses on account of a prolonged labor dispute, or because of force majeure, or because of legitimate business reverses.

Documentary Stamp Taxes on Shares

The original issue of shares is subject to documentary stamp tax of ₱2.00 on each ₱200.00 par value, or fraction thereof, of par value on original issuance of shares by the Fund. The documentary stamp tax is imposed on the person making, signing, issuing, accepting or transferring the document and is thus payable either by the vendor or the purchaser of the Common Shares.

Taxes on Dividends on the Shares

Individual Philippine citizens and resident aliens are subject to a final tax on dividends derived from the Common Shares at the rate of 10%, which tax shall be withheld by the Company.

Taxation of gross interest income from Philippine currency bank deposits and yield from deposit substitutes, trust funds and similar arrangements
