US Treasuries performed strongly amid weakness in oil and stronger dollar. Despite inflation and treasury supply concerns following Biden's $1.9 trillion stimulus announcement, yields were held at support levels with 10Y paper back at 1.08%.

For Asian sovereigns, market saw a quiet close last Friday after the wild swings during the first two weeks of the year. Sovereigns saw better interest with both the ROPs and Indons seeing betted bids by around a quarter of a point.
